

I believe that the Morse Code requirement should be eliminated for all licenses. With the advent of computer-aided code conversions, this is an unnecessary roadblock for many people wanting to participate in the amateur radio networks. If someone wants to use code, that should be their CHOICE but not a requirement for use of any band. If code is required on a band, computer-aided conversions should be acceptable. I trust that computers will be faster and probably more accurate than most operators.